

NOTICE OF HAZARDS AND ASSUMPTION OF RISKS

We, the undersigned, acknowledge and state that Quasar Nautica / Galapagos Expeditions and its agents have advised us that bringing children under twelve years of age on a Galapagos tour can be dangerous and hazardous. This is because the tour is conducted on and from a ship that will navigate open seas and that prevailing conditions on or around the Galapagos Islands may consist of high temperatures and other inclement weather.

We understand and acknowledge that Quasar Nautica / Galapagos Expeditions shall not provide any personnel at any time during the tour for the care and responsibility of our children. We acknowledge and state that we, and we alone, will be responsible for our children's safety and welfare at all times during the tour. In that regard, we assume all responsibility for all illness, sickness, injury and/or casualty of each of our children under 12 years of age, now and forever; provided, however, that such illness, sickness, injury and/or casualty is not caused by the intentional misconduct or negligence of Quasar Nautica / Galapagos Expeditions and/or its employees.

For the safety of our children, we will:

- Always keep the child secured on wet landings
- Always keep the child secured on dry landings
- Keep the child secured and well supervised during land visits
- Keep the child a safe distance from animals on all land visits
- Always supervise and be with the child while onboard the yacht
